

Luke DuCharme

Investment Analyst

Luke joined the firm in 2026 as an Investment Analyst. In this role, he supports the firm's investment team through quantitative and qualitative analysis of current and prospective investment opportunities. He contributes to portfolio management processes, participates in investment committee discussions, and assists in the development of client and prospect materials. Luke also gathers and analyzes market, economic, and portfolio data, and supports third-party manager due diligence and investment research.

Prior to joining MainStreet Advisors, Luke gained valuable experience in institutional multi-asset portfolio analysis and risk reporting at Northern Trust, as well as fundamental equity research, valuation, and AI-assisted tool development at Integrated Fiduciary Advisory Services. Additionally, he refined his financial modeling and security analysis skills managing a student-run investment fund, placing first in the William Blair Investment Banking Case Competition, and earning his FMC® Level II financial modeling certification from Adventis.
